Hi Jillian,

Do you want to set a time for next Wednesday?

Hi Phong,

Just checking back in to see when would be a good time for us to talk. It's no rush at all, especially seeing as though these few weeks before the Holidays are always particularly busy. If you're unavailable today, I should be in the office next Wednesday and Thursday. If not, we can catch up the following week or so. Thank you for your help!

Hi Jillian I'm in the field Thursday and Friday but I can talk late in the afternoon on both of those days around 4 p.m. How does December 3rd Monday look on your schedule.

Hi Phong,

By chance, are you available sometime this week to discuss the trash data in greater detail? I'm sorry I wasn't able to stick around after the meeting yesterday to discuss, but Micka and I needed to catch a train home. I'd like to talk through a few thoughts I'm considering with you related to:

- The calculation of a revised baseline load using new data and the same 2010 methodology
- The calculation of a revised baseline load using only the new data from COG's instream trash monitoring
- Incorporating trash trap data into the baseline load
- The implications of a new baseline load on the MS4s

Thank you,

Jillian Adair
